SOCCER RETURNS TO ITS SPIRITUAL BIRTHPLACE

Friday 6 September 2002

Australian soccer returns to its 19th century birthplace as the National Soccer League endorses the inaugural King's Cup between the Parramatta Power and Newcastle United to be played at the King's School on Sunday 15 September.

The King's School, the oldest independent school in Australia and best known for producing some of the world's most talented Rugby players, hosted the first competitive soccer match in Australia on 14 August 1880 between the King's X1 and The Wanderers on the J.S White Oval.

NSL CHAMPIONS

Welcome to the 2002/03 NSL Season Guide, the official season guide for the 27th season of the National Soccer League (NSL), Australia's first and longest–running national football competition.

This season's Guide is packed with information, history and statistics covering not just the 13 clubs of the 2002/03 NSL season, but encompassing all clubs and seasons from 1977 to now. It provides relevant background material not only for media and club personnel, but for anyone wishing to learn more about the NSL's fascinating history and its current scenario as the league faces the many challenges of the contemporary sporting landscape.

The INTRODUCTION presents current contact and staff details for Soccer Australia and the Professional Footballers' Association and a directory of the national and international footballing families. A list of the official 2002/03 NSL season media partners also appears here followed by a condensed laws of the game.

The 2001/02 REVIEW is a concise summary of the previous season, with details of every match played, summary tables, season records, a crowds analysis and a full summary of the National Youth League.

The CLUBS section provides a convenient eight page summary for each of the thirteen 2002/03 season clubs: contact details, a 2001/02 season review, club–specific fixtures, head to head information, the squad, captain and coach profiles, records and a season-by-season account of the club in the NSL to date. This is a stack of information not only as a useful club and player reference guide but also for match preview, commentary and review purposes.

NSL RECORDS presents a 20 page summary of NSL highs and lows to date, encompassing: club records, game records, player records (covering appearance, disciplinary, goalscoring and goalkeeping records), coach records, venues, a revealing all–time crowds summary, finals and the often neglected National Youth League. Much of this information has never been published anywhere until now.

A comprehensive statistical history of the NSL is provided in the SEASON–BY–SEASON section.

The Guide concludes with the all–important 2002/03 SEASON regular season draw and an outline of the new finals system being used this season. A list of match officials for the 2002/03 season is also provided here.

I hope you get a lot from this Guide and from this season.

CONTENTS

On behalf of the Board, management and staff of Soccer Australia, as well as the member clubs of the National Soccer League, we welcome you to the 2002/03 season.

Last season was an exciting and competitive one that saw outstanding crowd numbers; records set and a finals series equal to the competition's best. Highlights included the resurgence of NSL soccer in Newcastle, the continuing on and off field achievements of Perth Glory and the success of Olympic Sharks move to Sydney's Sutherland Shire culminating in a stunning Grand Final victory before yet another massive Perth crowd.

Last season's Finals Series saw record crowds achieved for the third season in row. Regular season average crowds ranked as the third highest in the 26-year history of the National competition. Both statistics providing evidence that more and more Australians are being entertained by the best in Australian soccer.

The 2001/02 season was also one that received wider media coverage in both print and electronic media. This included the final games of last season being shown live on free-to-air TV for the first time since the early days of the National League.

With Australian soccer on the precipice of a new era, the forthcoming season could see two records set that may never be beaten: Alex Tobin is within touching distance of his 500th NSL appearance whilst Damian Mori will be aiming for his 200th NSL goal.

I would also like to take this opportunity to acknowledge our key sponsors, media representatives and official suppliers, including Qantas, Channel 7, Lotto and Mitre — we thank for your continued backing and assistance.

Finally to all supporters, clubs, players and media representatives, we look forward to your continuing support and wish you all the very best in your teams fortunes for the forthcoming season.

IAN KNOP
Chairman
Soccer Australia

Welcome to the new season of the National Soccer League for 2002/03 and all the goals and excitement it promises to offer all players, clubs, supporters and players of the competition.

The 2002/03 season promises much intrigue and fervour with an exciting new Finals format in place. Based on a close variation of the successful Swiss model, the league will feature a 26-round competition, with the top six clubs playing the semi finals on a home and away basis for ten further rounds, concluding with the top two teams after the playoffs, meeting in the Grand Final. Points will not carry over to the semi finals phase, however the team finishing at the top of the regular season receives a bonus of six points while the team finishing second will receive a bonus of three points.

Last season we saw the 'sleeping giant' of Australian soccer — the re-badged Olympic Sharks — crowned as National Champions following a superb Finals series under rookie coach Gary Phillips. Despite a narrow loss in the Grand Final, Perth Glory achieved remarkable success both on and off the field, with the team who regularly played their home games in front of huge crowds, finishing the season as Premiers with a record points margin and having lost only one game. Credit also to Newcastle United and Brisbane Strikers who despite being unheralded at the start of the season were constantly challenging for a top two position.

I have no doubt that the spirit and determination of the clubs and their commercial partners will help us continue to work together towards the shared goal of a vibrant and highly successful National Soccer League.

With the continuing support of our supporters, players, sponsors and stakeholders, we will be able to build on our code's tremendous foundations to help the world game to the top of the Australian sporting tree.

On behalf of the NSL Commission and its member clubs I welcome you to season 2002/03.

REFORM OF THE NATIONAL COMPETITION IS THE MOST IMPORTANT STEP FOR AUSTRALIAN SOCCER
by Alex Tobin, President of the Australian Professional Footballers' Association

Sometimes we forget how far soccer has come in this country. Crowds of eighty-five thousand for major Socceroos matches, the world game being easily the number one participation sport for Australian youngsters, even 40,000 crowds at National Soccer League grand finals: we take all this for granted now, but 20 years ago, it would have been hard to imagine.

The occasional out-of-touch sports enthusiast might claim that soccer will never catch on in Australia as a mainstream sport. Whisper it to them, but football is already huge in this country. The overwhelming success of the 2002 World Cup finals emphasised what many of us have suspected for a while; that Australians will embrace soccer wholeheartedly, given the right circumstances.

Of course, it goes without saying that there are still plenty of problems to be addressed within the game, and the NSL remains Australian soccer's most critical issue.

Extensive research conducted by PFA Management Limited in the last 12 months has convinced us that a strong, high quality, viable national competition has the potential to capture the imagination of Australians in the same way as our sport has at other levels. We remain committed to ensuring the creation of a new national league that taps this potential.

A vibrant new national competition will also be a critical step in stemming the exodus of promising Australian players to overseas leagues, and nurturing the next generation of Brett Emertons, Mark Vidukas and Paul Okons. In conjunction with Soccer Australia and the NSL clubs, the PFA has a vital role to play in promoting soccer as the sport of choice for potential elite athletes in Australia.

In the meantime the players are looking forward to the 2002/03 NSL season, which promises to deliver plenty of excitement. Hopefully the forthcoming campaign will be full of pulsating football, passionate support from the fans, and will mark the beginning of major reforms that will push the game even further into the consciousness of the Australian sporting public.

Alex Tobin has been PFA President since 1998. He is both the National Soccer League and Australia "A" internationals games record holder.

Please give them your support as they broadcast live matches from the National Soccer League.

Law 1 - field of play.
NSL fields must be between 64m and 75m in width and between 100m and 110 m in length.

Law 2 - ball
The official game ball of the NSL will have a circumference of 68–70cm, a weight of 410–450g and pressure equal to 0.6–1.1 atmosphere at sea level.

Law 3 - number of players
Each team is to have a maximum 11 players, including one goalkeeper. In the NSL a maximum of three substitutes is allowed to be fielded, with up to four substitutes—which includes one goalkeeper—allowed on the bench.

Law 4 - players' equipment
Players must not wear anything that is dangerous to either himself or other players. Players' uniforms are to consist of a jersey, shorts, socks, shinguards and boots. Goalkeepers must wear colours that distinguish themselves from the other players on the field and match officials.

Law 5 - referee
The referee has the authority to enforce the Laws of the Game for the match he is in control of. The referee acts as timekeeper and keeps a record of the match. The referee works in conjunction with his assistant referees and the fourth official to ensure that the game is played in accordance with the laws of the game. The referee's decision is final.

Law 6 - assistant referee
Two assistant referees are appointed to assist the referee and indicate when the ball goes out of play, which team is entitled to a throw-in, goal-kick or corner kick, off-sides and when substitutes are requested to be fielded. Assistant referees are also required to alert the referee to misconduct.

Law 7 - duration of the match
The match goes for two equal periods of 45 minutes. Allowance is to be made for time lost through injury, substitutions, time wasting, setting up walls, goal celebrations, cautions, send-offs or any other cause at the referee's discretion. Half time is restricted to a maximum of 15 minutes.

Law 8 - start and restart of play
A toss of a coin decides which team will kick-off. Each team must stay in their own half and the defending players must be at least 9.15m from the ball at kick-off. After a goal is scored play is restarted with a kick-off. The second half of the match is started by the team that did not kick-off in the first half.

Law 9 - ball in and out of play
The ball is out of play when the whole of the ball has crossed the goal line or touch line, or when play has been stopped by the referee. At all other times the ball is in play.

Law 10 - method of scoring
A goal is scored when the whole of the ball crosses the whole of the goal line, between the posts and under the cross bar, provided that no infringement has occurred prior to the ball going into the goal.

Law 11 - offside
A player is in an offside position if he is nearer to his opponent's goal line than both the ball and the second last opponent. He can not be in an offside position if he is in his own half, is level with the second last opponent, or is level with the last two opponents. A player in an offside position is only penalised if the ball touches or is played by one of his team and he is interfering with play, interfering with an opponent or gaining an advantage by being in that position. The critical issue is whether or not the player in the offside position gains a significant advantage from being in that position. There is no offside if a player receives a ball directly from a goalkick, throw-in or corner kick.

Law 12 - fouls and misconduct
Direct free kick: Awarded if a player commits any of the following offences in a manner that is deemed to be careless, reckless or using excessive force: kicks or attempts to kick an opponent; trips or attempts to trip an opponent; jumps at an opponent; charges an opponent; strikes or attempts to strike an opponent; or pushes an opponent. A direct free kick is also awarded when a player: touches the opponent before touching the ball during a tackle; holds an opponent; spits at any other person; or deliberately commits a handball.

Penalty kick: Awarded if any of the above offences are committed by a player inside his own penalty area when the ball is in play.

Indirect free kick: Awarded if a goalkeeper: takes more than six seconds while controlling the ball before releasing it; touches the ball again with his hands after it has been released from his possession without touching another player; or touches the ball with his hands after directly receiving it from a throw-in taken by a team-mate. An indirect free kick is also awarded if a player: plays in a dangerous manner; impedes the progress of an opponent; prevents the goalkeeper from releasing the ball from his hands; or commits any other offence not previously mentioned in Law 12 where play is stopped to caution/dismiss a player.

Cautionable offences: A yellow card is issued if a player: commits unsporting behaviour; shows dissent by word or action; persistently infringes the laws of the game; delays the restart of play; fails to respect the required distance when play is restarted with a corner or free kick; enters or re-enters the field of play without the referee's permission; or deliberately leaves the field of play without the referee's permission. Most cautions are administered for unsporting behaviour.

Send-off offences: A red card is issued if a player: is guilty of foul or serious play; is guilty of violent conduct; spits at any other person; denies the opposing team a goal or obvious goal-scoring opportunity by deliberately handling the ball; denies an obvious goal-scoring opportunity by an offence punishable by a free-kick or a penalty kick; uses offensive, insulting, or abusing language and/or gestures; or receives a second caution in the same match.

Law 13 - free kicks
There are two types of free kicks: direct and indirect. A direct free kick can be kicked directly into goal; an indirect free kick can only result in a goal if the ball touches another player before it enters the goal. For all free-kicks the players from the opposing team must be at least 9.15m from the ball.

Law 14 - penalty kick
A penalty kick is awarded against a team that commits a direct free-kick offence inside their own penalty area. All players, except the penalty taker and the goalkeeper, must be at least 9.15m away from the penalty mark and outside of the penalty area. Once the ball is kicked the goalkeeper may move along the goal line but not in front of it.

Law 15 - throw-in
A throw-in is awarded when the whole of the ball passes over the whole of the touchline. The throw-in is taken from the point where the ball crossed the line. The thrower must face the field of play, have part of his foot either on or outside the touchline, use both hands and throw the ball over his head. A goal can not be scored directly from a throw-in.

Law 16 - goal kick
A goal kick is awarded when the whole of the ball, having last been touched by the attacking team, passes over the goal line and not within the goalmouth. The ball is placed at any point of the goal area and kicked by a player in the defending team.

Law 17 - corner kick
A corner kick is awarded when the whole of the ball, having last been touched by the defending team, passes over the goal line and not within the goalmouth. The ball is placed on the corner arc and kicked by a player in the attacking team.

BRISBANE BEFORE STRIKERS STRUCK

Prior to the formation of the Brisbane Strikers in 1991, Queensland had been represented by two other NSL teams—Brisbane City (1977–1986) and the Brisbane Lions (1977–1986, 1988).

City and the Lions had mixed fortunes during their NSL existence. City's most successful season was in 1981 when—inspired by the goalscoring exploits of English import Paul Wilkinson—the club finished third in the 16 team league. The best league placing for the Lions was fourth position on the 1984 ladder (southern division)— the club went on to win the Qualifying Semi Final 4-2 over Brunswick before losing on penalties to Heidelberg in the Minor Semi Ginal.

Despite overall mediocre league form, both clubs enjoyed National Cup success. Brisbane City actually won the first two Cups—in 1977 and 1978, while Brisbane Lions won the National Cup in 1981.

NEWCASTLE'S NOTABLE NSL HISTORY

Newcastle United were formed in September 2000 and filled the void of the Newcastle Breakers who had its NSL licence removed earlier that month.

United are the fourth NSL club to represent the Hunter region following Newcastle KB United (1978–1984), Newcastle Rosebud United (1984–1986) and the Breakers (1991–2000).

Newcastle KB United brought unprecedented home crowds and media attention when they commenced their NSL venture in 1978. The 18 367 crowd which saw their round 6 match in 1979 was a record non-finals NSL attendance which stood for over 20 years. However, the momentum did not hold and five matches into the 1984 season KB United ceased operations. The vacancy in the NSL was almost immediately taken by the Adamstown Rosebuds Soccer Club. However while the name and ownership of the club changed, the playing squad remained and the club carried on throughout the 1984 season. Remarkably considering the off-field turmoil Rosebud took won the 1984 National Cup Final with a 1-0 win over the Melbourne Knights at Olympic Park. The club was relegated after the 1986 season.

Reflecting the relative continuity of the Newcastle club throughout 1984, and that the change in ownership occurred part-way through the season, NSL records for KB United and Rosebud United are often combined.

The Breakers resurrected soccer in the Hunter region with reasonable crowds and an impressive self-built home base—Breakers Stadium—in a NSL existence which lasted from October 1991 through to May 2000. The closest the Breakers got to major silverware was when they reached the Cup Final in 1995/96, losing 1-3 to South Melbourne at Melbourne's Bob Jane Stadium.

TOBIN THE TROOPER

Leading in to the 2001/02 season, the Northern Spirit's Alex Tobin holds the NSL player appearance record with a massive 484 games played since commencing his NSL career in 1984 with Adelaide City.

Tobin's games tally is a record unmatched in any Australian national footballing competition. It is a figure ahead of the AFL Australian Rules record holder Michael Tuck (426 games, 1972–1991) and the NRL Rugby League record holder Terry Lamb (349 games, 1980–1996).

Al going well with injury and form, 'Tobes' should crack the magic 500 games barrier in January of the 2002/03 season.

Tobin also holds the record for most 'A' nternationals played for Australia, with 87 'A' international matches played between 1988 and 1998, including qualifying matches for the 1994 and 1998 World Cups. Additionally he played 26 non-'A' internationals from 1988 to 1999 making a grand total of 113 Socceroo appearances from 1988 to 1999. He was captain of the national team from 1995 to 1999.

Tobin's NSL career started 13 May 1984 when he started for Adelaide City against South Melbourne at Middle Park. His record of 484 games stands well ahead of second placed most games played Sergio Melta (1977–1995) on 445 games.

Not surprisingly, Tobin holds several other NSL records, including:
- most starting appearances (482 starting appearances, ahead of Melta with 428)
- most wins by a player (220 wins, ahead of Paul Trimboli with 207 wins)
- most finals games (38 finals games, ahead of Paul Trimboli on 35)
- most finals series (12 finals series, equal with Francis Awaritefe)
- most games played at a venue (172 at Hindmarsh Stadium, ahead of Steve Blair with 158 games at Middle Park)
- most different venues played at (52 venues, ahead of Robert Hooker with 47 venues)
- most games played against a particular club (42 games against South Melbourne, ahead of Paul Trimboli with 40 games against Melbourne Knights)

Tobin has played against 33 different clubs, which is one less than the record number of clubs played against (this record is jointly held by Graham Arnold, Bob Catlin, Robbie Hooker and Robbie Slater who each played against 34 different clubs in their respective NSL careers).

Tobin attained three Championships—in 1986, 1991/92 and 1993/94. He appeared in two other Grand Finals—in 1992/93 and 1994/95.

He won two Marston Medals for Grand Final player of the match—in the 1991/92 and 1993/94 Grand Finals.

Remarkably Tobin has been sent off just once in his 19 year career—on 19.11.99 whilst playing for Adelaide City against the Newcastle Breakers.

PARRAMATTA STADIUM—ALREADY STEEPED IN NSL TRADITION

Parramatta Stadium, home of the Parramatta Power, was completed in 1986 as a replacement for Cumberland Oval, home of the Parramatta Eels Rugby League club. Since then, the venue has played host to some of the most important and enthralling encounters in the National Soccer League.

The first NSL match to take place at Parramatta Stadium was the 1986 Northern Division Grand Final when, after a gripping 2–all scoreline after 90 minutes, over 11 thousand witnessed Olympic's Chris Kalantzis snatch victory for his team with a goal in the 116th minute.

Two weeks later, in the second leg of the 1986 National Grand Final, another unforgettable NSL confrontation took place when Olympic—up 1–0 after the first leg in Adelaide—went down 1–3 on the day hence giving Adelaide City a stunning 3–2 upset aggregate victory.

The 1988 season climax was also played at Parramatta Stadium and was an encounter still not forgotten by anyone who was there. Sydney neighbors Marconi and Sydney United were 1–all after 90 minutes and 2 all after 120 minutes, with Marconi taking out the match 5–4 on penalties.

Marconi made it back–to–back Championships at the venue in 1989 when Zlatko Nastevski displayed just why he was voted 1989 NSL Player of the Year. Nastevski scored the clincher in the 91st minute to give Marconi a 1–0 Grand Final win over Olympic, in front of a then record NSL crowd of 23387.

It was yet another Marconi–Olympic Grand Final in 1989/90 but this time it was Olympic's turn for honours. A new record NSL attendance of 26352 watched Olympic come away from Parramatta Stadium with a comprehensive 2–0 victory.

Marconi and Adelaide City played out the 1992/93 Grand Final at the venue in one of the least memorable deciders of the modern era. A rather controversial penalty separated the teams, Marconi winning 1–0 in a dour encounter.

After dominating the league over the first 17 years, the New South Wales teams took it easy in the mid-to late-90s until the Wollongong Wolves took the competition by storm in 1999/00 and 2000/01 The 2000/01 Grand Final, the first to be played in Sydney for eight years, was a free-flowing and technically proficient match between the Wolves and South Melbourne, two lovely Wollongong goals giving the Illawarra–based team a 2–1 win at Parramatta Stadium.

DAMIAN MORI, 185 NOT OUT – THE FULL BREAKDOWN

Damian Mori's tally of 185 NSL goals as at the start of the 02/03 season is a record unlikely to be surpassed for many years—if ever. Currently Mori is almost 50 goals in front of 2nd placed leading scorer Rod Brown (137 goals).

From the commencement of the national league in 1977 until 1983, and again in 1987, the NSL Champions were determined by the team which finished the regular season at the top of the ladder—the 'first-past-the-post' system.

In 1978, 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1987 the top four or five placed teams on the final ladder competed in a 'post-season play-off' series. But with no incentive of playing for Championship honours, and combined with the season play-off series. But with no incentive of playing for Championship honours, and combined with the 'hangover effect' for the team which had already won the Championship by finishing first on the ladder, these matches were of less significance. Consequently these matches are considered as separate competitions and are generally disregarded in official NSL statistics such as player appearances and club records.

With a restructure of the national league in 1984 came the adoption of the legitimate finals system. From the 1984 season onwards, except for 1987, the winner of the finals series were considered the Champions—in line with the other major Australian sporting leagues. Official NSL records and statistics incorporate these finals matches.

From 1984 until 91/92, the 'McIntyre' final five system—as used in the other major footballing league in Australia at the time—applied. From 1992/93 until 2001/02, a final six system devised for the NSL applied. In 2002/03 the NSL finals moves to a new format, and is explained in the 'Fixtures' section of the 2002/03 NSL Season Guide.

Note that in 1984, 1985 and 1986, the national league was split into two conferences, based on a north/south split of teams. The Grand Final winners of each conferences played off—over two legs—for the national Championship in the national Grand Final. Some records treat two-legged Grand Finals as one match.

A full listing of finals matches, including full match details for all Grand Finals, is provided in the 'Season–by–season' section of the 2002/03 NSL Season Guide.

The regular season is followed by the championship series where the top six teams from the regular season play off against each other on a home and away basis.

The points from the regular season round do not carry over to the championship series, however the first placed team from the regular season is awarded six points for the championship series, and the second placed team from the regular season is awarded three points for the championship series.

The first and second placed teams at the completion of the championship series then play in the Grand Final, in the home city of the first placed team from the championship series.

STATISTICAL CLARIFICATION

The following points refer to current and historical records as presented in this Season Guide

Club and venue names. For consistency and simplicity, each club is generally referred to only by its current or last well-known name. Similarly, each venue is listed by its name as at the end of the 01/02 NSL season or when it ceased to exist. Abbreviations are sometimes used—refer pg 123 for full club and pg 138 for full venue names.

Listing of equivalent records. Where records of the exact same level have occurred but space does not permit the inclusion of all equal records in this Guide, the most recently occurring instance/s is/are generally listed.

Ranking wins and losses. When two wins are of equal margins, the best win is that win with the highest goals scored. This reflects that on a league ladder, 'goals for' is taken into account when clubs and level on points and goal difference. Similarly a worse loss when margins are equal is that loss with the lowest goals scored.

Clean sheet. Obtained when a goalkeeper who plays an entire match does not concede a goal for the entire match.

Fastest and quickest. In this Guide 'fastest' refers to shortest time between start and end of feat and 'quickest' refers to shortest time since beginning of play and end of feat. For example a hat-trick scored by a player (who started the match) in the 10th, 15th and 20th minutes is regarded as being of 10 minutes duration in the 'fastest' sense, and of 20 minutes duration in the 'quickest' sense.

Finals. Records generally incorporate finals matches except where otherwise stated (refer pg 140).

Forfeits. For consistency, forfeited matches are generally included in club's records (but not in player/coach records).

Revised scorelines. All match results changed by the NSL tribunal are recorded by their revised scoreline.

Newcastle. The treatment of NSL records relating to all Newcastle clubs is explained on pg 65.
